

Words Are Categorical™

by Brian P. Cleary
illustrated by Brian Gable

Homonyms & Homophones

So, what are homonyms
and homophones?

Do you know?

Which homonyms and
homophones can you find?

- bare and bear
- bear, bury, and berry
- bee and be
- burro and burrow
- can and can
- ewe and you
- flea and flee
- fowl and foul
- horse and hoarse
- merry, and marry
- moose and mousse
- pair, pare, and pear
- toad and towed
- toast and toast
- trunk and trunk
- would and wood

Homonyms: Two or more words that are spelled and pronounced the same but have different meanings.

Homophones: Two or more words that are pronounced the same but have different spellings and different meanings.

